

Are you thinking of getting some backyard chooks?

Would you consider ex-battery hens?

We've never seen the sunshine and never tasted grass. Is there anyone out there who can offer us a second chance to enjoy a better life? We're spent battery hens due for slaughter. Given some TLC we would blossom into beautiful hens and make wonderful pets. We would happily continue to lay but cannot guarantee this.

If you think you can offer us a home,
